

X2 COMPUTING ANNOUNCES APPOINTMENT OF NEW CHIEF OPERATIONS OFFICER

X2 Computing, X2 Computing has appointed Peter Skinner as Chief Operating Officer. Based at the company's headquarters in Evesham, Worcestershire he will be responsible for managing all operational functions of the business including service and support, manufacturing and logistics.

Peter Skinner has over 20 years experience of the mobile communications marketplace and was previously Managing Director of RiteRack Ltd, a supplier of enclosures for the datacoms, telecoms and electrical industries. Prior to this, he was Group Commercial Director at Greenwoods Communications Ltd, a leading independent network solutions provider to the communications industry, where he was responsible for managing all commercial matters including contract renegotiations and subsidiary activities. Before this he was Sales and Marketing Director for Ryco Electronic Systems Ltd, a supplier of software controlled power management systems.

According to Francis Davis, Sales & Marketing Director of X2 Computing: "Peter's extensive operational experience will play an important role in enabling the company to achieve its ongoing strategy for growth."

In his spare time, Peter and his family are active members of the VW Owners Club and between them own a Karmann Ghia, a VW camper van and an original air-cooled Beetle. As well attending regular club meets, he edits "Karmann Konnected", the official fanclub newsletter.
